FOP, Teamsters digging in for police union fight..

Nashville, TN -- In the midst of a criminal investigation involving members of the local Teamsters union, the Fraternal Order of Police yesterday took a significant legal step toward reclaiming their place as the top union of Metro police officers, a title it lost to the Teamsters nearly 18 months ago.

However, the embattled Teamsters wasted no time in firing back, saying later in the day that it was prepared to re-run on a record of accomplishment that its representatives said already has come to outshine the record the FOP left after representing Metro officers for almost two decades.

Now, some two weeks after the arrest by TBI agents of former Metro Police officer and current Teamsters organizer Calvin Hullett — the main suspect in an alleged plot to bug an FOP outpost — both unions appear to be digging in.. Read More

Metro PD Teamsters' liaison decommissioned..

The Metro Police Department has decommissioned one of its officers after learning Thursday that the officer was allegedly involved in a Teamster plot to bug the youth summer campgrounds of the police union's main rival, the Fraternal Order of Police. That officer, Roy Dunaway, who on Thursday was stripped of his law enforcement authority, had been the acting liaison between the police department and the Teamsters union.. Read more

Rocky Mount -- When Danny the K-9 cop in Rocky Mount was shot and killed while chasing a suspect last summer, some said it was tantamount to murder.

The dog's death spurred an outpouring of sympathy and outrage that has prompted legislation to increase the penalty for willfully killing or trying to kill a police animal.

Law officers say the measure, approved recently by the Senate, will help protect their four-legged partners. Read more
